THE PRESIDENT AND DIRECTORS OF GEORGETOWN COLLEGE, TO ALL WHO SHALL VIEW THIS DOCUMENT: GREETINGS AND PEACE IN THE LORD

Ever conscious of her indebtedness to devoted Faculty members, alert to occasions for the expression of her gratitude, Georgetown University today pays public tribute to a distinguished Professor of Law. A generation of admiring students, a wealth of significant and influential writings, and his frequent invitations to consultation and conference, national and international, amply attest to his superlative competence in the complex field of corporate and business law. His vigorous support of and participation in our Student-Professor Exchange Program with the University of Frankfurt, and, above all, his inventive genius and initiative in founding the pioneer Institute for International and Foreign Trade Laws, have not only enhanced his own long-established reputation on two continents, and contributed immeasurably to the growth of understanding and cooperation between our country and the Federal Republic of Germany; they have redounded also to the increased prestige and stature of the whole University.

For his outstanding achievements in and contributions to his chosen vocation, for his unwavering loyalty to Georgetown and to her School of Law, for his splendid exemplification of the ideals of scholar, gentleman, and friend, the President and Directors offer this highest token in their power of admiration, affection, and gratitude, by nominating hereby and proudly proclaiming

HEINRICH KRONSTEIN
